

QUEST

A Million Little Pieces

point: the lobby of One Jackson Square, a condo building in the West Village designed by Kohn Pedersen Fox Associates. Snaking walls of bamboo plywood bulge out in spots to Dumbo-based Situ Studio is gaining a reputation for making architects' wildest dreams come true. Case in create fluid benches and shelves, welcoming visitors with an indoor landscape reminiscent of Southwestern sandstone slot canyons. "KPF had the form and came to us to figure out how to build it," says Situ Studio partner Bradley Samuels. With a wide variety of digital-fabrication tools at the ready, including rapid-prototyping machines, CNC routers and laser cutters, Situ Studio is happy to oblige. situstudio.com